A close-up photograph of a person's hands holding several white envelopes. The envelopes are fanned out, showing their front sides. Each envelope has handwritten text in black ink, including names like 'L. J. H. C.', 'Quantity', 'City', 'State', and 'Zip'. Some envelopes also feature postage stamps. The background is dark, making the white envelopes stand out. The person's hands are visible, with one hand holding the envelopes from the left and the other from the right. The overall scene suggests a process of sorting or preparing mail.

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a stack of topographic maps. The hand is positioned on the left side of the frame, with fingers gripping the edges of the maps. The maps are layered, with the top one showing a detailed landscape with green areas, brown contour lines, and a red rectangular feature. To the right of the hand, a stack of plain white paper is visible, partially overlapping the maps. The background is solid black, which makes the hand and the maps stand out. The lighting is focused on the hand and the maps, creating a high-contrast scene.
